Labor Day, 1967—No Time Off for Them!

First Negro Is Sworn In As Justice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The grandson of a slave has been sworn into office as the nation's first Negro justice of the Supreme Court.

Thurgood Marshall, son of a sleeping car porter and a long-time battler for equal rights for Negroes, took the "constitutional" oath of office in a quiet, private ceremony Friday.

Officiating at the swearing-in was Justice Hugo L. Black, at 81, the court's oldest member. During the oath-taking he directed Marshall's attention to a section in a Gideon Bible that read: "And so abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity."

Black, a former two-term U.S. Senator from Alabama who has served on the court 30 years, once belonged to the Ku Klux Klan. Later, as a lawmaker and justice, he became a staunch defender of civil liberties.

Marshall, 59, said after the ceremony he'll begin work next Tuesday. By taking the oath to support and defend the U.S. Constitution, he is empowered to perform all judicial duties except decide cases.

He is expected to take a public or "judicial" oath—in which he must swear to administer justice to all—when the court reconvenes for its new term Oct. 2.

The ceremony in Black's office was witnessed by Mrs. Marshall, the Marshall sons, Thurgood Jr., 11, and John William, 9, Justice William J. Brennan Jr., Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, Mrs. Black and T. Perry Lippitt, the court's marshal.

It was to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Clark's father, former Justice Tom Clark, that President Johnson appointed Marshall to the high court bench June 13.

Man Killed As He Tried To Give Aid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A Toledo man—a member of a group which spends long holiday periods helping motorists in trouble—was the victim of a traffic accident shortly after the Labor Day weekend began.

Thomas Kille, 44, was sent to the scene of a two-car crash on Interstate 280 in Wood County Friday night and was struck and killed by a third car, the Ohio Highway Patrol reported. He had pushed three children out of the way before he was struck down.

Kille was a member of "REACT," a group of northwestern Ohioans who use radio cars over the holiday periods to assist motorists in trouble—and try to help keep down the highway slaughter.

Ohio safety experts have predicted 33 will die in Ohio traffic accidents despite beefed up law enforcement agencies which are patrolling the streets and highways in full force.

Vera M. Bryant, 45, of Atlanta, Pickaway County, was killed in a two-car collision on U. S. 35 just west of Jamestown in Greene County.

Find 12 Bodies Of Parachutists

HURON, Ohio (AP) — With only four of the 16 sky divers who lost their lives in a mass jump Sunday still unaccounted for, the Coast Guard resumes its search for bodies in Lake Erie off Huron today.

Meanwhile, a National Transportation Safety Board hearing into the tragedy wound up at Oberlin after two days of testimony. Thomas McDill who conducted the hearing for the safety board, said it will be several months before any findings are made public.

McDill and other members of the panel heard conflicting testimony on the position of the converted B25 from which 18 sky divers jumped. Leaping through a cloud cover, the 18 were supposed to be over Ortner Airport, 10 miles south of Lake Erie.

They landed instead in the lake, and only two survived.

Engel Smit, radar controller at the Federal Aviation Administration's Oberlin Air Traffic Control Center, testified that he was certain he had the B25 on his radar scope as it dropped the jumpers. His testimony would place the jump plane near the target airport.

But the two survivors and a parachute expert gave contradictory testimony.

Basing his estimate on the point where the two survivors landed five miles offshore, Norman Heaton, executive director of the U.S. Parachute Association, said the divers must have been at least one mile from shore when they left the aircraft.

Two Leaders At Odds on Negro Plight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two Negro leaders disagree on the best way to improve the Negro's position but they agree on the need for rapid betterment.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., in a speech Friday in Washington, charged white people with being mainly responsible for rioting that has rocked Northern cities this summer.

King said slums are the handiwork of a vicious system of white society and that the Negro lives in them but does not make them his home any more than a prisoner makes a prison his home.

Floyd McKessick, the fiery leader of the Congress of Racial Equality, preached another point of view in an address in Chicago.

"Organization is what we must have. Organization from the bottom: organization in the house; organization of your sons and your daughters, telling them that black men are equal," he said in a voice breaking with emotion.

Government Orders New M16 Shipment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fast-firing M16 rifle, highly criticized for its reputed tendency to jam during Vietnam combat action in Vietnam, was given a stamp of approval Friday by the Army when it ordered another $25 million worth.

Under the new contract, the Colt Co. will produce another 245,716 of the weapons. It has already manufactured 704,357 M16s for the Defense Department.

Bernard R. Johnson, 30, of West Richfield, one of the survivors, said in response to a question that the plane could not possibly have been at the position indicated by the FAA controller when he jumped.

Johnson said he was one of the last to jump and that he went out a rear window rather than the bomb bay. He said he was bounced around a bit by the plane's "prop wash" and did not notice the clouds below because he was looking for another jumper to stunt with.

The other survivor, Robert L. Coy, 29, of Springfield, said he fell through 4,000 to 6,000 feet of clouds and finding himself at about 4,000 feet and four to five miles from shore.

"I'm certain we would have had to exit over the lake to hit where we landed," he said.

Smit said he was certain he had the B25 on his radar screen and not a Cessna which was positioned over Ortner to get pictures of the jumpers coming down. He said he knew the picture on the radar screen was the B25 because the Cessna reported a jet was passing beneath him, and that did not show up on the screen.

Skydiving Casualties

HURON, Ohio (AP) — Nine bodies of parachutists from Sunday's skydiving tragedy were recovered from Lake Erie Friday. Here are their names:

David F. Sheehan, 30, Codringtonville, Medina County.
Gerald Freeman, 32, Akron.
Joseph Malarik, 35, Newbury.
Stanley Becka Jr., 23, Strongsville.
Lyle Boyer, 28, Strongsville.
James Dreyer, 31, Parma.
Richard Patfield, 27, Cleveland.
Norman Allard, 32, Ashtabula.
Fred Rivenburg, 24, Springfield.

Bodies recovered previously: Michael Thiem, 24, Springfield.
Mrs. Patricia Lowmsbury, 26, Akron.
Dorsie Kitchen, 33, Coventry Township, Summit County.

Steel Price Hikes Spread; Federal Action Not Planned

NEW YORK (AP) — A price increase in steel bars appeared all but certain to stand today with most of the major producers having joined in the hike despite a Johnson administration plea for restraint.

President Johnson told a Washington news conference Friday that he regretted very much the companies' decision to raise prices but he did not indicate that he planned to do anything about it.

At almost the same time, Bethlehem Steel Corp., No. 2 producer, and Inland Steel Co., No. 4, announced they were raising prices on bars. Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., No. 5, and Arco Steel Corp. and Kaiser Steel Corp. followed suit shortly thereafter.

The price ball was started rolling by Republic Steel Corp., No. 3, on Wednesday. United States Steel Corp., No. 1, joined in the hike Thursday despite criticism of the raise by Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors.

13 Injured, 14 Arrested In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Police, caught in a barrage of bottles and bricks minutes after cracking down on a forbidden civil rights march Friday night, rushed a Roman Catholic school yard and showered it with tear gas.

The police sweep that sent tear gas filtering into the buildings of St. Boniface parish climaxed a night of racial tension that resulted in 13 injuries and 14 arrests. A spectator collapsed and died of natural causes, authorities said.

Among those arrested was the Rev. James E. Groppi, a white assistant pastor at St. Boniface, a parish in the heart of the Inner Core, where most of Milwaukee's 86,000 Negroes live.

Father Groppi, who led the attempted march from St. Boniface, is adviser to the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

It was the second straight night in which the priest was arrested and the third night in which police have broken up a youth council demonstration that defied a ban by Mayor Henry Maier.

The ban on nighttime demonstrations, originally in effect for 30 days, was declared Wednesday after two nights of violence that accompanied youth council marches into masses of heckling whites on the predominantly Polish South Side. The mayor decided Friday to lift the ban beginning at 9 a.m. today.

The tension is expected to reach a climax with a rally today that Father Groppi said may attract the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Negro comedian Dick Gregory; Floyd McKessick.

County Woman Killed in Auto Crash

An Atlanta woman was killed early Saturday morning in a traffic smashup on State Route 35 in Green County, one mile west of Jamestown.

Dead as a result of a grinding head-on crash is Vera May Bryant, 45, an Atlanta housewife.

According to the Xenia Post of the Ohio State Patrol, Mrs. Bryant was headed west when she ran off the road. Veering back onto the roadway, Mrs. Bryant crossed the centerline and struck a car driven by Russell C. Carter of Washington C. H.

Carter and a passenger, Larry Rohrer, 18, also of Washington C. H., were severely injured and reported in "fair" condition by authorities at Green County Memorial Hospital.

According to the Xenia OSP, an autopsy is scheduled for today at Greene Memorial Hospital. Funeral arrangements will be completed by Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, New Holland.

Highway Deaths May Reach 600

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic deaths in the early hours of the extended Labor Day weekend appeared running about normal for a nonholiday period.

Since the start of the holiday period at 6 p.m. local time Friday, 51 persons were killed in traffic accidents.

The National Safety Council has estimated that at the end of the 78-hour Labor Day weekend between 560 and 600 persons might lose their lives in highway accidents, compared with 533 on a nonholiday weekend.

Thurmond Attacks LBJ's War Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Strom Thurmond contends President Johnson is playing "a numbers game" in saying he's authorized U.S. bombing of six of every seven North Vietnamese targets recommended by military leaders.

"It is more than just the number of targets authorized for strike that is important," the South Carolina Republican said. "The choice of the targets is the important thing, and that is where the bone of contention lies."

Johnson's statement at a Friday news conference also drew fire from Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, who said: "The one in seven not authorized would, in many cases, be worth far more than the six authorized."

Miller and Thurmond are members of the Senate military preparedness subcommittee, which strongly criticized the administration's bombing policies in a unanimous report issued Thursday.

Johnson responded to the panel's assertions at the news conference, and took particular care to downgrade reports of sharp policy differences between he and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara on the one hand, and the Joint Chiefs of Staff on the other.

"There's no deep division" in policy on bombing of North Vietnam, said the President. "There are no quarrels, no antagonisms."

Miller said later that could mean only that targets recommended by the Joint Chiefs have won Presidential approval.

But Johnson gave no hint of such action.

He said of 350 potential North Vietnamese targets recommended by the Joint Chiefs, about 300—or six of seven—have been authorized. Most of the others, said Johnson, are in strategic areas including the Port of Haiphong, Hanoi and a buffer zone near the Red Chinese border.

In its report, the Senate subcommittee said air raids to close or cripple the Port of Haiphong are high on the target

Heavy Guard Set For Sunday Vote

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese presidential election campaign ended today in apathy, terrorist raids and reports of a military coup attempt as the Viet Cong offered its own political and economic program for the nation on the eve of Sunday's voting.

Intelligence sources said the possibility of a coup attempt underlay the house arrest of South Vietnamese Col. Pham Van Lieu on charges of working for the election of a civilian candidate. It was not known, they said, if the alleged plot had reached the stage of planning or alliances.

Lieu's seizure and continued terrorist shootings and grenade blasts brought new uneasiness to the election that has been called both a brave venture in democracy and a fraud. Besides a president and vice president, the nation's 5.8 million registered voters will choose a 60-member Senate.

Voting at the 8,808 polling places begins at 7 a.m. Sunday and ends at 4 p. m.

While apathy showed in the turnout of only 3,000 persons for a final public campaign rally in Saigon Friday night, the Communists—banned from running in the election—used Hanoi Radio to beam promises of what will happen if they come to power, including land for the peasants.

Most of South Vietnam's men in arms and American and allied forces were assigned to guard polling places and known terrorist routes. They were joined in rice paddies and villages by observers from 24 nations, including 22 Americans dispatched by President Johnson.

The military leaders, Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu, 44, and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, 36, were strong favorites to win the races for president and vice president. None of the 10 civilian tickets appeared able to match the support of the men who have been running the country for two years.

SAIGON (AP) — Communist guerrillas made election eve attacks throughout South Vietnam today, including an attempted terror raid into the province capital of Tam Ky where a terrorist carrying 20 pounds of TNT was shot down.

Most of the attacks were small but the over-all death toll mounted sharply.

U.S. sources said 190 civilians have been killed by terrorists in the past week, 426 have been wounded and 237 kidnapped.

The regular war stayed quiet. Most of South Vietnam's servicemen and many Americans were assigned to protect the voters.

The attack on Tam Ky, capital of Quang Tin Province in the politically sensitive northern war zone which has been the main target of pre-election terror, was thrown back with four South Vietnamese killed and six wounded. Simultaneously the Communists mortared a military dependents camp on the outskirts of the town, wounding two people there.

Mexican Storm Kills 5 Persons

SAN FELIPE, Mexico (AP) — Five Americans were reported killed and two Mexican girls were missing and feared dead early today after Hurricane Katrina lashed this Baja California fishing village.

Winds of 96 miles an hour and pouring rain ripped through San Felipe, a resort town of 15,000. The hurricane had spun a twisting west-to-east path across unpopulated sections of the peninsula 175 miles wide. Reports of its ferocity were meager.

Winds Sweep Forest Fire Across Idaho

BONNERS FERRY, Idaho (AP) — Flames exploded across the north Idaho panhandle near Canada's border early today, racing to within four miles of Bonners Ferry.

Dayton Douglas, civil defense spokesman in the Boudry County community of 2,000, said crews were preparing to evacuate 10 farm families in rural areas.

He said shifting winds had slowed the forest blaze near "wide fields" northwest of town, giving firefighters a chance to fortify safety lines.

It appeared the fire was by-passing the town, but forecasts called for continued strong, shifting winds.

Bob Pearsall, night dispatcher at Forest Service headquarters in Sandpoint, Idaho, said, "We've had wind gusts reported up to 50 miles per hour with 25 to 35 miles per hour winds at the surface quite common."

Dayton Douglas, civil defense spokesman in the Bountry County community of 2,000, said crews were preparing to evacuate 10 farm families in rural areas.

He said shifting winds had slowed the forest blaze near "wide fields" northwest of town, giving firefighters a chance to fortify safety lines.

It appeared the fire was bypassing the town, but forecasts called for continued strong, shifting winds.

Bob Pearsall, night dispatcher at Forest Service headquarters in Sandpoint, Idaho, said, "We've had wind gusts reported up to 50 miles per hour with 25 to 35 miles per hour winds at the surface quite common."

With today's modern architecture, window shades are particularly prominent. Picture windows and extensive use of glass create extra glare on bright days and the necessity of privacy at night. And shades also may be used for dividers and storage walls in small efficiency apartments.

Shades can be harmonized with cornices, curtains, furniture, wallpaper and shutters. Shades should be colorful, not drab. Warm and cool colors can change the whole mood of a room. Trims can be added to the shades. And shades can also be stenciled with textile paint and appliqued with material or and appliqued with material or draperies, cafe curtains, or be spreads can be laminated on shades.

Today shades are made of materials which are fire-resistant, sun-resistant, washable, and practical for every room and type of window in the house. Some of the new materials include washable and flame-resistant cotton duck, coated with vinyl for long wear and easy maintenance. Cotton moire, which resembles silk, is washable as well as sun- and flame-resistant. Translucent shades made of fiberglass combine durability and washability with the extra feature of filtering light where it is wanted. Some new shades are also coated with insulating particles to keep rooms cooler in summer and warmer in winter.

Because the well-groomed look is essential to decorator-style window fashions, Miss Ruth Lee, Home Furnishings Consultant, has written a book which contains tips for easy maintenance. Most shades are washable, or are treated so they can be wiped clean with soap or detergent suds on a clean cloth or sponge. Miss Lee suggests that each shade be removed from its brackets and spread over a flat surface while it is washed on both sides. It should then be damp rinsed, wiped off, replace in its brackets, and pulled down full-length until thoroughly dry.

WITH our population growing at a fast pace, food experts with the U. S. Department of Agriculture have estimated the quantities of basic food commodities needed by 1980. If our population reaches 235 million as predicted and if our diets change at the same rate as in recent years, the experts report that by 1980 farmers and ranchers must produce — compared with 1966 — 8 billion pounds more red meat, 19 billion pounds more milk, 14 million tons more fruits and vegetables, 6 billion more eggs. To produce needed additional quantities of these and other foods, another 95 million acres of cropland would be required if yields in 1980 were the same as in 1966.

However, rising productivity and efficiency on farms and ranches may make it possible to feed 235 million people in 1980 from about the same total acreage used now. Today's farmers increasingly are applying the soil and water conservation measures needed to protect land for maximum productive use in 1980 — and far beyond that date.

The dream of home sewers — an opportunity to see, even before purchasing pattern and fabric, just how a made-up dress will look on the wearer — has now become a reality.

A noted pattern company, co-operating with numerous fabric manufacturers, has produced made-up fronts in a variety of styles. These are available at many pattern and fabric counters for try-on, just as with ready to wear.

The open-back fabric shells can be adjusted to almost any figure, size, and length — by means of elasticized, adjustable back straps; a selection of over-size grippers, and a series of snap fasteners along the hemline.

Experienced sewers know that not every fabric lends itself to every pattern. By showing current fashions in a generous range of high-style fabrics suited to a specific pattern, trying on these half-dresses can help prevent costly errors. Another way to be really practical and economical is to choose washable fabrics whenever feasible. These are particularly appealing to creative dressmakers who believe that crisp cleanliness can be maintained best via soap or detergent suds.

The chance to see just how a pattern-made dress will actually look in use is an imaginative new concept — one that should result in fashion and fabric choices that are becoming to the future wearer.

Teacher Salary Disputes Feature School Openings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Routine back-to-school days loom for most of the nation's youngsters, but in some cities local school disputes that have been quietly simmering through the summer may mar the opening of classes.

The discord centers variously on teachers' salaries, desegregation, the omnipresent teacher shortage or simply overcrowding. One Delaware high school principal says even his school's rest rooms are going to be jammed.

In New York City Thursday the teachers union rejected the Board of Education's latest salary offer but submitted a new proposal of its own as negotiations on a new contract moved to the critical stage.

More than 30,000 of the city's 55,000 classroom teachers have signed resignations which the United Federation of Teachers threatens to submit to the board if a new contract is not reached by Sept. 11 when classes are scheduled to begin.

In Clearwater, Fla., school officials and Pinellas County teachers agreed Thursday on a 14-point program calling for higher salaries to clear the way for resumption of classes in public schools.

Nearly 2,000 teachers had submitted resignations late Wednesday on the first day of the new school year. The agreement calls for salary increases ranging from $440 a year for new teachers with a bachelor's degree to more than $1,000 for beginning teachers with doctorates.

Meanwhile in Broward County, a larger system than Pinellas, the school board voted to close schools next Tuesday so teachers may attend a county "professional day" called by their association.

The teachers have rejected the Broward board's promise of a base salary up to $6,000 next year holding to their request for $5,615 for the school year begun last Monday.

Pinellas schools were the first in Florida to be closed since teachers launched a statewide campaign for higher salaries and more money for education.

Sanctions against the state have been invoked by the Florida Education Association and its parent organization, the National Education Association. Gov. Claude R. Kink has promised to announce a new education program Sept. 5.

About two-thirds of the 800 public school teachers in East St. Louis, Ill., refused to work Thursday, the second day of school. Many of the 24,000 students were sent home.

Officials of Local 120 of American Federation of Teachers said their members were willing to return if the school board would discuss salary demands. The board has refused saying money is not available.

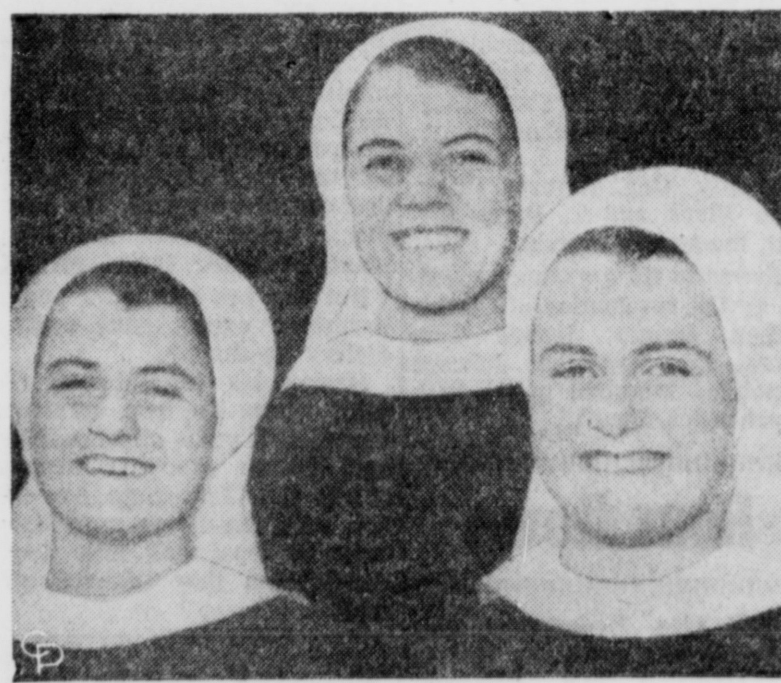

A desegregation plan in Providence, R.I., brought some 75 demonstrators to the city's school administrative offices Thursday night for a "sleep-in" protest.

The predominantly Negro group said they would stay until the school committee met with them to discuss the issue. The plan is scheduled to go into effect when classes start next Wednesday.

The demonstrators say they object to Negro children being bussed out of predominantly Negro south Providence to white schools in other parts of the city.

And in Venice, La., Negro and white pupils chanted "We want teachers! We want teachers!" Thursday as they picketed the Boothville-Venice school and refused to transfer to the Bursas High School 10 miles away.

School officials decided to eliminate the 10th, 11th and 12th grades at the school because of a teacher shortage. Venice is 90 miles south of New Orleans in rich Plaquemines Parish.

The World Today

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON AP)—A long, cold autumn seems likely to be the price Congress will have to pay for dawdling through the long, hot summer.

It's off again on its third vacation since convening last January. And when it returns Sept. 11, the end of the 1967 session won't be in sight.

Legislative leaders no longer have a fixed target date for final adjournment, although they hopefully look to mid-November as the get-away period. In the optimistic opening days of the session, they plugged for July 31 as going-home day. Then they backed it up to Labor Day. They'd settle now for Thanksgiving Day.

Although much has been done during the first eight months, much more remains to be done if the scheduled business is to be disposed of before the end of the year. And most of the remaining legislation is highly controversial.

It deals with tax increases, higher postal rates, pay raises, Social Security, the antipoverty program, civil rights, foreign aid and election law reforms, to list a few.

A tax bill is scheduled to hit the House floor in mid-October, and then it starts all over in the Senate.

The Social Security measure, broadening benefits, has passed the House but isn't expected to reach a Senate vote until late in October.

The election reform bill is the Senate's unfinished business when Congress returns. It hasn't been acted on by the House. Also nearing the voting stage in the Senate are a $2.6 billion antipoverty bill and a broad housing measure including a House-rejected provision to exterminate rats in slum areas.

Major unfinished business on the House calendar is a compromise $70 billion defense appropriation bill with a controversial provision banning naval ship contract awards to British shipyards.

House-passed bills to protect civil rights workers and to make it a federal crime to cross state lines to incite rioting are languishing in the Senate Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. James Eastland, D-Miss.

The House Post Office and Civil Service Committee hopes to have ready soon bills to hike postal rates and to boost the pay of postal and civil service employees. Pay raises for military personnel are being considered by the House Armed Services Committee. The pay bills are "must" for the pre-election year session.

Only six of the 17 appropriation bills have gone to President Johnson. Eight of the remaining 11 have passed the House only. The three that haven't been considered by either branch finance the foreign-aid program, military construction, and antipoverty programs. They can't be considered until separate legislation is enacted putting spending ceilings on the programs.

The money bills enacted involved presidential requests for $93.5 billion in new funds and reflected congressional cuts of $1.9 billion. This includes the Defense Department measure over which there is no controversy as to appropriations. Economy-voting isn't keeping pace with economy-talking.

But despite the long holidays and delays over censoring Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., and unseating Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., Congress has pretty much to show for its work to date.

It has enacted a new draft law, extended the Teachers Corps and other education programs, increased the national debt limit twice, provided benefits for "cold war" veterans and halted a threatened railroad strike.

James Marlow, who usually writes this column, is on vacation.

Air Problem Now Critical In California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An air pollution expert says Los Angeles residents, choking and blinking after the worst siege of smog in the city's history, face "a major catastrophe."

To help prevent complete air contamination, he said, car emissions must be greatly reduced and antismog laws more rigidly enforced.

Louis J. Fuller, Los Angeles County air pollution control officer, said residents of the sprawling basin can expect to suffer for at least 10 more years unless stringent action is taken.

Complaints of smarting eyes and lung congestion poured into the county Health Department this week as the smog reached the second highest count of all time. Smog alerts were issued three straight days, ending Thursday after scattered thundershowers fell in Southern California.

The smog count at nearby Azusa was .54 part per million parts of air on Monday, .70 Tuesday and .73 Wednesday. The highest ever recorded was .90 at Vernon in 1955.

Sizzling temperatures accompanied the smog—up to 113 in Burbank in the suburban San Fernando Valley. A high of 103 Thursday in Los Angeles broke the record of 101 for the date.

Funds Granted For OU Airport

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Approval of a $486,490 grant to Ohio University by the Federal Aviation Administration was announced Friday. The money will be used for land acquisition and runway construction for the university's new airport site.

The matching funds will permit construction of a 4,200-foot runway 100 feet in width. Also to be constructed are a 1,500 by 50-foot parallel taxiway, a connecting taxiway and an apron and access road.

The airport site of more than 700 acres is situated about 10 miles west of Athens and parallels U. S. 50 near Albany.

Orders Of Steel On High Level

CLEVELAND (AP)—Despite the threat of strikes in the auto industry, ordering of finished steel products continues on a high plateau, Steel Magazine reported today.

The metalworking weekly reported an increase in orders from automakers and from manufacturers of appliances, farm equipment, and earthmoving equipment.

As far as prices go, Steel forecasts a continuation of the upward trend.

"Most platemakers have followed the recently initiated advances of $4 per ton on carbon plates and $8 on alloy materials. Meanwhile, consumers anticipate a continued rise in prices."

A leading producer posted base price increases on hot rolled and cold finished carbon and alloy bars last week with the new prices effective Sept. 7.

Steel said other makers are studying the average increase of 1.8 per cent.

Steel products in strongest demand now are wire rods, semifinished items, reinforcing bars, heavy structurals, piling, rails, galvanized sheets, long terms and electrical sheets.

"Orders for hot and cold rolled sheets, particularly the latter, have markedly improved lately, reflecting stronger automatic demand," Steel said.

The magazine estimated that the industry poured 2,456,000 tons last week, the highest tonnage since March and an increase of 2.3 per cent from the previous week.

"Much of the volume can be traced to the resumption of many manufacturing operations as the vacation season ends and stepped-up preparations for autumn production campaigns," according to the magazine.

Also showing an increase is the scrap market with Steel's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting scrap up 67 cents a ton to $27.83.

"Pending final outcome of auto labor contract negotiations, scrap traders do not know whether to anticipate larger or smaller supplies of automotive scrap this month."

Urban League To Attempt Reduction Of Negro GIs

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Urban League is undertaking a program that would cut the number of Negro re-enlistments in the armed services, a spokesman said today.

The Negro re-enlistment rate among Vietnam veterans runs higher than that for whites, said Guichard Parris, public relations director, because many Negroes feel civilian life offers them no opportunity.

"We want to provide them with a choice they've never had before," he said, "to stop them from re-enlisting because they have no choice. Unless someone tells them what's happening, they will not be able to make an intelligent choice."

The league announced its new Office of Veterans Affairs Aug. 22 at its Portland, Ore., annual conference.

Executive Director Whitney M. Young Jr. said at the time he had discussed the idea with President Johnson in summer 1966, shortly after a trip to Vietnam, and both the President and top government officials had given it enthusiastic support.

Young is currently in Vietnam again as a member of the presidential committee watching the South Vietnam elections.

League Deputy Director Mahlon T. Puryear said when the program was announced that Negroes "are serving today in Vietnam in unprecedented and disproportionate numbers due to a high rate of enlistment and re-enlistment generated largely by the superiority of opportunity for training and advancement in the military service."

Bellevue GI Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Friday Army Pfc. Terrance Kuro, Bellevue, Ohio, has been killed in Vietnam.

Migrants' Conditions Upgraded

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — With Ohio's tomato harvest nearing its season peak, growers estimate that about 25,000 migratory workers will be in the state during the next three weeks.

Since last season, the Governor's Committee on Migrant Labor has been working with farmers and other employers of migrant workers to upgrade migrant housing in order to assure an adequate supply of seasonal workers in the future.

The committee says recruitment of workers in Ohio has been made easier in the past because of generally good working conditions, friendly treatment by communities, good earnings, good housing, and other inducements.

William O. Walker, industrial relations director, said Thursday that "housing is of utmost importance. He sent letters to employers of migrant workers urging them to check for generally good housekeeping practices, sanitation and fire protection, and to consult with the committee on any problems."

Young Negro Heads Commission

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, a young Negro who has been victimized by job discrimination in his own life, hopes to eliminate one of the more difficult kinds of discrimination in hiring—the subtle kind.

Clifford L. Alexander Jr., 33, born and reared in New York City's Harlem, said in his first interview as chairman that the commission is faced with "eliminating the complacency over hiring this or that Negro or Mexican-American and then forgetting about it."

He said employment discrimination is "one of the most urgent concerns of our time." He urged employers to look further than their friends, families and old school pals to find qualified personnel and to learn to send recruits to the many small Negro colleges, not just big ones like Howard University in Washington.

Alexander listed three major areas of work for the commission:

—Using available information supplied by the employers to show employers discriminatory employment patterns of which they may not be aware. Virtually every large employer in the nation was required to file forms several months ago and Alexander said "we now know exactly—in number—their employment pattern."

—Intensified use of the complaint process, which currently has a backlog of about 1,800 cases charging illegal employment discrimination. He urged also more lawsuits to force balking employers to abandon traditional discrimination.

—Making more use of its technical assistance program to help employers start training programs for the chronically unemployed.

Alexander, an aide to President Johnson for four years before being named commission chairman June 27th, said his young organization needs the power to issue cease and desist orders to compel employers to stop discrimination, and more money to enlarge its staff, presently 314 members. Such legislation is before Congress.

Although he spent his early years in Harlem, Alexander's education is far from that of the typical Negro slum dweller. He attended Fieldston School—one of New York's socially prominent private prep schools—on a scholarship. He worked his way through Harvard University as an insurance investigator and graduated cum laude. He holds a law degree from Yale University Law school.

Alexander, who says he has been the victim of job discrimination because of race at least three times—but refuses to discuss the incidents—believes the commission must aim "to eliminate discriminatory employment patterns based on race, sex, color, religion and nationality as soon as possible, with the emphasis on soon."

Aerial Weapons Big Help In Fighting Forest Fires

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Every man and machine the U.S. Forest Service can find has been thrown at the walls of flame in the Pacific Northwest forests.

Already there have been over 2,000 fires this summer, compared to 995 in a similar period last year.

Sweating men still hack out fire lines, but fire fighters have called in World War II bombers to help the foresters gain control.

"If we hadn't had aerial weapons this year, we'd be in worse shape by now," said Bill Wood, fire control equipment officer for the Pacific Northwest region of the Forest Service.

The region includes 26 million acres in Oregon and Washington. The headquarters are in Portland.

The bombers drop retardants on forest fires, checking their spread. Helicopters skim the trees with loads of men and equipment for the ground war.

Smokejumpers, carrying packs on their backs, leap into the smoke.

Planes fly over the green sea of trees, looking for signs of fire.

Other planes, equipped with infrared devices can detect hot spots and can map terrain hidden by thick smoke or the dark of night.

The helicopters carry rescue litters for carrying injured men to hospitals.

Wednesday fires in the Willamette National Forest in Oregon broke loose and never stopped, sweeping over 7,000 acres of heavy timber. That was one of several big fires in the Pacific Northwest during the day.

In fighting the fires, strong pumps weighing only 30 pounds are put into action by firemen minutes after water is located.

Trucks carry bulldozers to the front lines and convert instantly to water tankers with inflatable tanks.

Modern packaging makes it possible to drop ground equipment from planes, including field offices, tools, water and dried and frozen food.

Men carry protective shelters on their backs which offer refuge when 750-degree fires surround them.

The Forest Service, and nearly every other fire fighting agency, uses a commercial mixture which contains ammonium sulfate, to retard fires.

So far this summer the Forest Service has dropped a million gallons in the Northwest. Besides stopping the fires, it fertilizes the soil.

Not all the weapons are new. Observers, in towers rising from the highest peaks, still watch for fires and relay radio messages to remote spots.

Thousands of men still work with picks and shovels in the face of the spreading inferno.

When the weather gets so dry and hot that any little spark will start a blaze, the foresters begin to rely on old-fashioned hope.

This year there has been a record drought in the Northwest. Wood said the number of fires may exceed any other summer.

Wood is sure things would be way past hope by now without the latest weapons.

"They have saved our bacon numerous times," he said.

Surplus CCC Property Slated For Public Sale Sept. 14

The Pickaway ASC County Committee, acting as agent for Commodity Credit Corporation, a corporate agency of the United States within the Department of Agriculture, will offer for sale the following described property at public auction, according to Paul T. Moore, chairman.

Ten steel circular bins, 16 aluminum circular bins, 31 fans and tube assemblies and used office furniture.

The sale will be held at the CCC Bin Site, located five miles west of Circleville on State Route 56, at 1:30 p. m. on Sept. 14.

The property will be sold "as is" and "where is". Each bin will be sold separately and they will be dismantled.

Bins and other property may be inspected prior to the sale between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. on Sept. 12 and 13.

Each purchaser of a bin will be required to execute a certification that the bin will be used in connection with the storage or handling of agricultural commodities. Bidders are warned that any false statement to CCC in such certification is punishable by a fine not to exceed $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years or both, under the provisions of the Commodity Credit Corporation Charter Act.

The purchaser will also be required to certify that his bid was made without collusion, consultation, or agreement with any other person with respect to the amount of his bid for the purchase price.

Cash on day of the sale, or bins may be financed under the Farm Storage Facility Loan Program. Farm storage facility loans are available to farmers on the purchase of bins through the ASCS county office provided purchaser meets eligibility requirement for loan. Farmers interested in a loan should contact their county office prior to day of sale regarding eligibility requirement. If eligible, the prospective purchaser must bring a memorandum from his home ASCS county office so stating.

No property is to be removed from bin site before being paid for. Bins must be removed from the site before Oct. 14, 1967.

Title to the grain bins shall vest in the purchaser when payment is made. Risk of loss or destruction from any cause whatsoever shall be borne by the purchaser at time of award to purchaser at public auction.

Commodity Credit Corporation reserves the right to reject, any or all offers.

Additional information may be obtained from J. Austin Dowden, office manager, Pickaway ASCS County Office, 1440 N. Court St.

Orders Of Steel On High Level

CLEVELAND (AP)—Despite the threat of strikes in the auto industry, ordering of finished steel products continues on a high plateau, Steel Magazine reported today.

The metalworking weekly reported an increase in orders from automakers and from manufacturers of appliances, farm equipment, and earthmoving equipment.

As far as prices go, Steel forecasts a continuation of the upward trend.

"Most platemakers have followed the recently initiated advances of $4 per ton on carbon plates and $8 on alloy materials. Meanwhile, consumers anticipate a continued rise in prices."

A leading producer posted base price increases on hot rolled and cold finished carbon and alloy bars last week with the new prices effective Sept. 7.

Steel said other makers are studying the average increase of 1.8 per cent.

Steel products in strongest demand now are wire rods, semfinished items, reinforcing bars, heavy structurals, piling, rails, galvanized sheets, long ternes and electrical sheets.

"Orders for hot and cold rolled sheets, particularly the latter, have markedly improved lately, reflecting stronger automatic demand," Steel said.

The magazine estimated that the industry poured 2,456,000 tons last week, the highest tonnage since March and an increase of 2.3 per cent from the previous week.

"Much of the volume can be traced to the resumption of many manufacturing operations as the vacation season ends and stepped-up preparations for autumn production campaigns," according to the magazine.

Also showing an increase is the scrap market with Steel's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting scrap up 67 cents a ton to $27.83.

"Pending final outcome of auto labor contract negotiations, scrap traders do not know whether to anticipate larger or smaller supplies of automotive scrap this month."

Labor Day

Labor Day, first observed in a minor manner in 1882, has grown in enjoyment and meaning with each succeeding anniversary, until it has become one of the major holidays celebrated by those who perform the dual task of earning their own keep and providing the motivation for civilization's continued advance.

In the U. S. Canada and Central America the working man is honored this fourth day of September, 1967, with even greater pride than in previous years.

He has again contributed his labors toward the betterment of himself, his family and his fellow countrymen. The abilities of many millions are required to attain the achievements of a period such as the last 12 months.

It will require even greater effort to surmount the increasing complexities of business, industry, politics and the many other facets of civilization in the year ahead.

The productive citizen has not yet failed his fellow men and it would not be surprising if his efforts in the coming months did again exceed all previous attainments.

By whatever means he celebrates his day, whether at some retreat of his particular fancy or in the company of his own family, the working man's relaxation will be enhanced by the satisfaction of accomplishment. He may choose perhaps to undertake too much relaxation, with the knowledge that this is the last holiday of the summer, or he may choose to spend the day doing nothing more strenuous than observing the sky from a horizontal position.

From whatever vantage point it will be an enjoyable day because it is his.

Story of September

Even in the days of the ancient Romans politics played a major part in current affairs. In the administrations of the Caesars the government, as represented by the then current emperor, dipped into many facets, as indicated by the calendar month of September.

Emperor Augustus took over the job shortly after his Uncle Julius had worked the calendar over and added a month named in his honor — July. When Augustus came on the scene he ordered further changes with the addition of a month named for him — August.

The boys given the job of working over the calendar reported back that only 30 days were available for the new month of August, and the emperor told them off. If Uncle Julius had 31 days in his month, certainly Augustus would be satisfied with nothing less.

"Take a day from September," he ordered. Up to that time September had been the seventh month in the calendar, and so named its original 31 days were reduced to 30, to satisfy the vanity of the emperor.

In ancient Rome — instead of naming dams or other more or less evanescent objects after rulers — they gave them places in the calendar, to endure as long as it lasts.

Color TV Is New Symbol

NEW YORK (AP) — America's idolatry of the gadget has reached a peak in the present worship of the color television set.

Whether you own one or not determines your social class—whether you belong to the haves or the have nots, the "in" group or the "out" group.

"How long are we going to go on living the Dark Ages?" demanded my daughter, Tracy Ann, who is 14.

"Yes, the Dark Ages," she said dramatically. "That's what life is without a color television set."

"Practically everybody has a color set except us. How long are we going to stay underprivileged?"

"Oh, we'll get one soon."

"How soon?"

"As soon as you can get one by mooning away breakfast food boxtops."

But I suppose we will have to buy a color set before too long. My wife Frances has joined my daughter's assault, and it is difficult for a man to hold out against two ruthless females, no matter how great his integrity.

Besides, I don't think it's fair of me to subject them to possible social ostracism. My neighbor

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

Much controversy over the proposed annexation of 1,200 acres south of Circleville and planned $15 million development arose among city residents.

The Hall-Adkins Post of the American Legion was conducting a membership drive. Harold W. Hill, post commander, announced.

The Miller Development Co. purchased 300 acres south of the city for residential building purposes.

TEN YEARS AGO

A private flower show was scheduled to be held at the Pickaway Country Club.

Pickaway County drivers received "a pat on the back" from local law enforcement agencies as only three minor accidents occurred over the Labor Day weekend.

Pickaway County agricultural society met to make final plans for the annual county fair.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Non-defense spending was a major topic of discussion at a Chamber of Commerce meeting.

The Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce began to put up the bulletin board honoring all of Pickaway County's men in service.

An announcement was made by the selective service board that married men with children and a satisfactory relationship with his wife would not be called for military duty before December.

BRITISH stage star Robert Morley states in his lively autobiography that he's pleased that every time a foreigner arrives in the U.S.A., customs officials consult a long list of names of persons deemed persona non grata in this great land of ours. "I don't believe these people actually exist," confesses Morley, "but it does make one think, 'My goodness, I've been let into the United States!'"

The impending arrival on Broadway of a brand new edition of "Hellzapoppin'" provokes fond memories of the original version, created and performed by two zany and uninhibited comics named Olsen and Johnson in the late Thirties. As I recall, the show opened with authentic newsreel shots of Mussolini and Hitler, but the soundtrack of the former reproduced the voice of Stepin Fetchit and the latter a character from Potash and Perlmutter. Then the two stars scampered on stage. Olsen fired a gun into the air—and was inundated by a shower of decoy ducks. Johnson recoiled and cried, "It's a lucky thing cows don't fly" — whereupon two cows fell down.

Then there was the weirdo who followed Johnson around until the latter asked him, "How much would you charge to haunt a house?" Olsen interrupted to deposit a large cake of ice into the weirdo's arms. Between blackouts and intermittent gunfire, the weirdo kept reappearing, the cake of ice appreciably smaller each time. Meanwhile, a lady kept wandering up and down the aisle with a rubber plant in her arms, calling vainly for "Oscar." As the show progressed, the rubber plant kept growing. By the final curtain it was about ten feet high—and Oscar was still among the missing.

I have a special reason for remembering "Hellzapoppin'." The date of the performance I caught was December 7, 1941.

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Even those of us who have been in the practice of medicine for many years are still overwhelmed by the brilliance of scientists and the horizons they open. A new experimental study seems so unbelievable that it makes science fiction a reality.

At the University of Hamburg, Germany, two German scientists have been able to photograph the lens in the eyes of a 6-week-old embryo. Under a high-powered microscope changes in the lens that might have been attributed to drugs or diseases can now be identified and perhaps prevented.

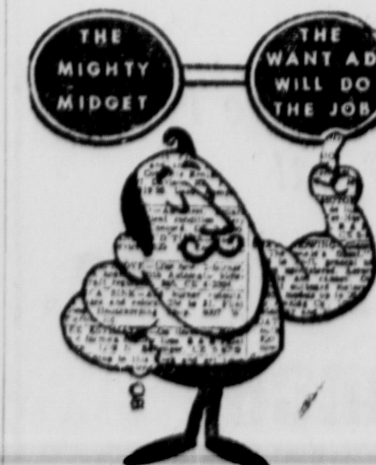

The studies, they say, "Provide the detailed basic knowledge of the fine structure of the human lens and make it possible to identify changes as they are taking place throughout 'pregnancy'." Dr. Walter Lerche and Dr. Klaus Wulle believe that this knowledge of the early changes in the lens structure may yet prove of value in the prevention of blindness in newborn children.

The last 10 years have brought tremendous interest in the nature of normal sleep. Exciting developments in dream patterns have been shown by Dr. Arthur Shapiro and his colleagues at the Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn.

They have advanced the knowledge of dreams, their significance and their effect on human beings. Rapid eye movements (known as REM) have been studied by them with remarkable accuracy. They tell exactly when the sleeping person is dreaming and how intense are his emotional responses.

Another investigator, Dr. Robert E. Jewett, of the Emory School of Medicine in Atlanta, has been attempting to find and study drugs that will control sleep normally. He says, "A complaint that is heard from mentally disturbed patients is that they don't sleep well." He believes, too, that "loss of dreaming during sleep may be a factor in personality changes."

Dr. Jewett is testing a large group of drugs that will increase total sleep and will be medically and psychologically desirable. Some of these drugs already hold high promise to

NEW YORK (AP) —People used to depend on a card in the window to keep their food fresh.

The card was a signal for the passing iceman to stop, tote a block of ice in on his leather-padded shoulder, and drop it into the wooden icebox.

Most Americans now rely, however, on the refrigerator and freezer to preserve and keep their fresh food fresh.

But there's a relatively new development in food freezing that makes the refrigerator's frigid temperatures seem almost balmy.

It's called cryogenics, the science of supercold temperatures.

The average temperature in a refrigerator freezing compartment ranges between 0 and minus 5 degrees Fahrenheit, cold enough to freeze a juicy leg of lamb into a rock hard club. But the temperatures of cryogenics range from minus 100 to minus 452 degrees Fahrenheit—so cold that gases become liquids, some metals gain superstrength and a fresh orange can be smashed into powder.

In the past few years, cryogenics has coasted out of the research laboratory and currently is getting practical application in such fields as food, metal-making, medicine, aerospace and electricity.

Industry sources say they expect the market for cryogenic machinery and gases to grow from the millions into a multi-billion-dollar market between now and 1975.

John P. Adams, president of Borg-Warner Corp.'s Byron-Jackson Division, estimates the manufacture of cryogenic pumps alone could amount to $10 million to $15 million. The pumps are used to convert gases, such as nitrogen, into supercold liquids.

"At this point," says Adams, "we are just beginning to capitalize on the opportunities this new technology has opened up."

The manufacture and sale of liquid nitrogen for cryogenic use has grown into a $100-million-a-year business, a spokesman says. Chemtron Corp., Union Carbide Corp., Air Products & Chemicals, Air Reduction Co., and General Dynamics are among the leaders in the field.

The food industry is one of the most active in exploiting the uses of supercold.

One spokesman says practically every frozen food manufacturer in the United States has been experimenting with cryogenic freezing. One group is the ice-cream people who are thinking of turning out ready-made sundaes, banana splits and the like and then quick-freezing them in their original shapes.

Liquid nitrogen—it becomes a liquid at minus 320 degrees Fahrenheit—is being used to some degree to keep meat fresh during shipping. After a truck is loaded with meat, liquid nitrogen is sprayed into the cargo space and the meat instantly frozen so that when it arrives at market it has had no loss from shrinkage, according to an industry spokesman.

Nitrogen also is being used in its gaseous form to keep fresh fruits and vegetables fresh, the spokesman says. The gas, metered out from tanks of liquid nitrogen, forms a blanket over the truck load of corn, lettuce and peas "to shield them from oxygen which destroys the freshness."

Labor Day

Labor Day, first observed in a minor manner in 1882, has grown in enjoyment and meaning with each succeeding anniversary, until it has become one of the major holidays celebrated by those who perform the dual task of earning their own keep and providing the motivation for civilization's continued advance.

In the U. S. Canada and Central America the working man is honored this fourth day of September, 1967, with even greater pride than in previous years.

He has again contributed his labors toward the betterment of himself, his family and his fellow countrymen. The abilities of many millions are required to attain the achievements of a period such as the last 12 months.

It will require even greater effort to surmount the increasing complexities of business, industry, politics and the many other facets of civilization in the year ahead.

The productive citizen has not yet failed his fellow men and it would not be surprising if his efforts in the coming months did again exceed all previous attainments.

Dear Abby:

Security with a Price Tag

DEAR ABBY: I am ashamed and miserable, but I must face the facts. I've done everything from crawl to fight to make my second marriage work, but our home life is a miserable existence, with constant quarreling and bedroom frigidity.

Any love, respect, companionship, and shared hobbies we once knew are long gone. We have no children and nothing in common except our home address and bank account.

The nerve-racking pretense to friends and relatives that our sick marriage is a success is becoming unbearable. I've thought of divorce, but this is a small town, and I dread the whispers that I have "failed" again.

Shortage of Teachers Is Now Critical

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Teachers may prove to be a bigger "drop out" problem than students this year as 2,358,900 grade and high school students say goodbye to summer and return to their classrooms after Labor Day—an increase of some 39,034 students over opening day last year.

According to Wayne Carle, an assistant state superintendent of schools, the latest annual report shows a sharp decline in student dropout. The report shows that 57 per cent of those students who enrolled in the first grade in 1944 graduated in 1966, whereas 76 per cent of those students enrolling in the first grade in 1954 graduated in 1966.

Ironically, the most serious problem now is the "dropout" teachers who have left Ohio classrooms barer than they've ever been. A recent survey showed that some 2,000 teachers are still needed for this year—mainly in the heavy population centers of northeast and southwest Ohio.

Rural counties are having their difficulties, too, as teachers either filter to the high paying school systems of neighboring states or leave the profession.

Pay increases for teachers made possible by the Ohio Legislature may alleviate the situation somewhat, however.

Use The Classifieds

My husband has made it plain that he doesn't love me, that I'm unable to earn my own living, and I am no longer young.

Should I admit that this marriage is another failure and become a two-time loser? Or should I sacrifice my self-respect and resign myself to a loveless life of humiliation and hypocrisy for the sake of financial security?

DEAR BITTER: You don't say how long you've endured a "loveless life of constant quarreling and bedroom frigidity," but if you continue to put up with it, regardless of what you say, it is obvious that you have decided that the financial security is worth the price you are paying for it.

DEAR ABBY: Altho I am only 21, and "young" in your eyes, I am a mature man, having lived fully and seen a great deal of the world.

There is so much said about "sex" these days. Can you tell me what is wrong with sex for sex's sake if I do not harm anyone?

DEAR MATURE: The answer is obvious. It harms YOU. Promiscuous sex will gradually transform you into a selfish, pleasure-seeking creature, incapable of loyalty or of loving another.

DEAR ABBY: Our son is getting married in a few months, and my husband and I offered to pay for the flowers in the bridal procession and for the liquor for the wedding.

I understand that according to etiquette, the names of the groom's parents are not included on the invitations. I feel that since our son has parents (thank God), after his name should be, "the son of Mr. and Mrs. So and so."

Many of my husband's business associates will be invited, and they don't know our son, and have never even heard of the girl or her parents, but they do know us.

Don't you think the bride's parents should exercise some common sense and ask the printer to use the names of the groom's parents as well as the bride's? I believe this should be done whether the groom's parents pay anything toward the wedding or not. Please answer in the paper and sign me.

DEAR UPSET: I agree, it would help to identify the groom if his parents' names were included on the invitation. But if one wants to go "by the book," only the names of the bride's parents are used. I am informed, however, that only about three or four out of 500 requests do include the groom's parents names.

Legislative Action Gives Big Boost To Industrial Development in Ohio

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's bid to surpass New York and California as the top export states got a big boost from the 197th General Assembly.

And sweeping revision of the corporate franchise tax is expected also to stimulate industrial development in Ohio.

The changes are in the new law signed Friday by Gov. James A. Rhodes to raise $300 million more in taxes and push spending for education to a record $1.2 billion for the current two-year period.

"This is a real boon for Ohio manufacturers with worldwide markets," says Tax Commissioner Gail W. Porterfield.

Patterson Peppie, deputy industrial development director, adds that effects of the tax changes will be felt by manufacturers statewide.

The franchise tax was increased from 3 to 4 mills—to hike revenue from the levy from $3 to $4 per $1,000 of corporate net worth—$58 to $63 million a year.

But the major change shifts application of the tax from "origin to destination" on goods shipped by manufacturers.

The revision applies to returns required from corporations between Jan. 1 and March 31.

The corporate franchise tax applies both to company property located in Ohio and the business done.

The old law applied the tax to products at their origin; regardless of where sold; the new law only to products that remain in Ohio.

Procter and Gamble Co., Cincinnati, was cited as a major beneficiary of the change because of its worldwide business. The franchise tax on the firm's soap and other products now will apply only to those remaining in the state.

Steel, rubber, glass and other Ohio industries doing volume out-of-state and foreign business will benefit similarly, it was explained.

Some small firms doing most of their business within Ohio could be affected adversely but the impact will be softened competitively because goods shipped in from other states now will be taxed at the same rate. The tax did not apply to products shipped into Ohio under the old law.

An example cited is Lever Brothers, a P & G competitor, with no manufacturing property in Ohio.

The tax has been applied at origin for some 30 years. Attempts to make major revisions failed in recent legislative sessions, although most other states already had done so, officials recalled.

The franchise tax is part of a revenue-raising package for public schools and higher education termed a "program of excellence" by Rhodes.

Other increases include an advance from 3 to 4 per cent in the retail sales tax, its extension to beer and cigarettes and a raise in the state cigarette excise tax from 5 to 7 cents a pack.

The education tax package emerged in the legislature after enactment of the state's two-year operating budget which carried only enough money to run schools on the previous basis without tax increases.

The increases assure bigger subsidies for school districts, pay raises for teachers and school employees, high school driver training and about $15 million for special services for parochial pupils.

As a result, school and taxes, like the "love and marriage" song, go together.

Rhodes and Republican majorities in both the House and Senate made sure there couldn't be one without the other.

Most Democrats refused to vote for the combined education tax and appropriation law, although professing support for educational advancement.

They recalled that Republicans voted against tax boosts made under the aegis of Gov.

House Members To Get More Trips to Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted Thursday to let House members take more taxpayer-financed trips home than senators are allowed.

A bill passed without debate and sent to President Johnson lets each House member take one roundtrip home for each month Congress is in session.

House members now are limited to four such trips annually at government expense, but senators get six. In recent years Congress has usually met during more than six months.

House members also will be permitted—even if their district is adjacent to Washington—to collect $750 for transportation expenses in lieu of billing for each trip. The present lump sum limit is $300.

The bill is retroactive to Jan. 3.

Dear Abby: Security with a Price Tag

DEAR ABBY: I am ashamed and miserable, but I must face the facts. I've done everything from crawl to fight to make my second marriage work, but our home life is a miserable existence, with constant quarreling and bedroom frigidity.

Any love, respect, companionship, and shared hobbies we once knew are long gone. We have no children and nothing in common except our home address and bank account.

The nerve-racking pretense to friends and relatives that our sick marriage is a success is becoming unbearable. I've thought of divorce, but this is a small town, and I dread the whispers that I have "failed" again.

My husband has made it plain that he doesn't love me, that I'm unable to earn my own living, and I am no longer young.

Should I admit that this marriage is another failure and become a two-time loser? Or should I sacrifice my self-respect and resign myself to a loveless life of humiliation and hypocrisy for the sake of financial security?

BITTER

DEAR BITTER: You don't say how long you've endured a "loveless life of constant quarreling and bedroom frigidity," but if you continue to put up with it, regardless of what you say, it is obvious that you have decided that the financial security is worth the price you are paying for it.

DEAR ABBY: Altho I am only 21, and "young" in your eyes, I am a mature man, having lived fully and seen a great deal of the world.

There is so much said about "sex" these days. Can you tell me what is wrong with sex for sex's sake if I do not harm anyone?

MATURE

DEAR MATURE: The answer is obvious. It harms YOU. Promiscuous sex will gradually transform you into a selfish, pleasure-seeking creature, incapable of loyalty or of loving another.

DEAR ABBY: Our son is getting married in a few months, and my husband and I offered to pay for the flowers in the bridal procession and for the liquor for the wedding.

I understand that according to etiquette, the names of the groom's parents are not included on the invitations. I feel that since our son has parents (thank God), after his name should be, "the son of Mr. and Mrs. So and so."

Many of my husband's business associates will be invited, and they don't know our son, and have never even heard of the girl or her parents, but they do know us.

Don't you think the bride's parents should exercise some common sense and ask the printer to use the names of the groom's parents as well as the bride's? I believe this should be done whether the groom's parents pay anything toward the wedding or not. Please answer in the paper and sign me.

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: I agree, it would help to identify the groom if his parents' names were included on the invitation. But if one wants to go "by the book," only the names of the bride's parents are used. I am informed, however, that only about three or four out of 500 requests do include the groom's parents names.

Shortage of Teachers Is Now Critical

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Teachers may prove to be a bigger "drop out" problem than students this year as 2,338,900 grade and high school students say goodbye to summer and return to their classrooms after Labor Day—an increase of some 39,034 students over opening day last year.

According to Wayne Carle, an assistant state superintendent of schools, the latest annual report shows a sharp decline in student dropout. The report shows that 57 per cent of those students who enrolled in the first grade in 1944 graduated in 1956, whereas 76 per cent of those students enrolling in the first grade in 1954 graduated in 1966.

Ironically, the most serious problem now is the "dropout" teachers who have left Ohio classrooms barer than they've ever been. A recent survey showed that some 2,000 teachers are still needed for this year—mainly in the heavy population centers of northeast and southwest Ohio.

Rural counties are having their difficulties, too, as teachers either filter to the high paying school systems of neighboring states or leave the profession.

Pay increases for teachers made possible by the Ohio Legislature may alleviate the situation somewhat, however.

Legislative Action Gives Big Boost To Industrial Development in Ohio

By REED SMITH
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's bid to surpass New York and California as the top export states got a big boost from the 107th General Assembly.

And sweeping revision of the corporate franchise tax is expected also to stimulate industrial development in Ohio.

The changes are in the new law signed Friday by Gov. James A. Rhodes to raise $300 million more in taxes and push spending for education to a record $1.2 billion for the current two-year period.

"This is a real boon for Ohio manufacturers with worldwide markets," says Tax Commissioner Gail W. Porterfield.

Patterson Pepple, deputy industrial development director, adds that effects of the tax changes will be felt by manufacturers statewide.

The franchise tax was increased from 3 to 4 mills—to hike revenue from the levy from $3 to $4 per $1,000 on corporate net worth—$58 to $63 million a year.

But the major change shifts application of the tax from "origin to destination" on goods shipped by manufacturers.

The revision applies to returns required from corporations between Jan. 1 and March 31.

The corporate franchise tax applies both to company property located in Ohio and the business done.

The old law applied the tax to products at their origin; regardless of where sold; the new law only to products that remain in Ohio.

Procter and Gamble Co., Cincinnati, was cited as a major beneficiary of the change because of its worldwide business. The franchise tax on the firm's soap and other products now will apply only to those remaining in the state.

Steel, rubber, glass and other Ohio industries doing volume out-of-state and foreign business will benefit similarly, it was explained.

An example cited is Lever Brothers, a P & G competitor, with no manufacturing property in Ohio.

The tax has been applied at origin for some 30 years. Attempts to make major revisions failed in recent legislative sessions, although most other states already had done so, officials recalled.

The franchise tax is part of a revenue-raising package for public schools and higher education termed a "program of excellence" by Rhodes.

The increases assure bigger subsidies for school districts, pay raises for teachers and school employees, high school driver training and about $15 million for special services for parochial pupils.

As a result, school and taxes, like the "love and marriage" song, go together.

Rhodes and Republican majorities in both the House and Senate made sure there couldn't be one without the other.

Most Democrats refused to vote for the combined education tax and appropriation law, although professing support for educational advancement.

They recalled that Republicans voted against tax boosts made under the aegis of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle by the legislature in 1959, the last time Democrats were in control.

House Judiciary Committee Chairman Robert E. Levitt R-91 Stark plans hearings in major cities during September in an effort to learn what sparks racial riots.

They include Cleveland, Toledo, Canton, Columbus and Cincinnati, all hit by outbreaks except for Columbus.

The legislature authorized the study by a subcommittee.

Levitt expressed hope that the hearings, and review of what other states are doing, would enable the legislature when it returns Jan. 15 to develop an Ohio program helpful to local authorities in dealing with demonstrations.

Liquor Director Donald D. Cook's announcement that it would take until October to make up the sales tax increases in state stores got fast reaction from Finance Director Richard L. Krabach.

The state's money manager asserted Ohio could ill afford to lose a month's tax revenue from the increase an apportioned liable for failing to collect the extra money.

Cook notified store managers the next day to collect the higher tax the same way most retailers are doing.

China May Have Nuclear Missile

LEEDS, England (AP) — China may be ready to test her first intercontinental missile capable of carrying a nuclear warhead before the end of this year, a scientific conference was told here today.

Already the Chinese Communists have performed "remarkable achievements" in nuclear weaponry, C.H.G. Oldham, of the science policy research unit at Sussex University, told a meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

"The successful detonations of an apparently 'clean' hydrogen bomb only eight years after the inauguration of China's first research factor and less than three years after his first atomic explosion was a remarkable scientific and technological feat," said Oldham, who studied Asian science while based in Hong Kong.

AAUW Programs Study Problems of Society

EDITOR'S NOTE — Following is the second article presenting information of the American Association of University Women. It is part of a series giving detailed accounts of local area women's clubs and organizations.

The American Association of University Women's program is strong, flexible, and responsive to a variety of approaches. It is closely related to the responsibilities of college-trained women in a world of change and to their continued intellectual growth. It is a program that involves the membership in study, action and consideration of future concerns.

These are the topics which will serve for the next biennium

as the core of the association program: "The Growing Gap Between Rich and Poor Nations," "The Politics of Public Education," "Society's Reflection in the Arts," and "Testing Values in a Changing World."

Separately, each topic has its own purpose and intent, and each within its scope is accessible to different interpretations by different branches. Together, these four measure the breadth and diversity of interest among association members from concrete formulation of foreign policy to abstract considerations of values.

The Circleville Branch has chosen for its study for the current year the topic "Testing Values in a Changing World." Mrs. Thomas C. Sackinger and Mrs. Robert Rustin, vice presidents for program development, have correlated both a stimulating and interesting series of programs developing the chosen topic.

Israelis Revamping Arab Education

TEL AVIV (AP) — Some 235,000 children whose Arab schools were closed by the Middle East war go back to school Monday under Israeli supervision, and with books carefully rewritten to eliminate anti-Zionist propaganda.

The educational experiment in Arab territories occupied by Israel is being watched by Israelis, Arabs and the world beyond the Middle East.

Some of the children will have no books. Israeli authorities still are printing thousands of new texts on history, geography and literature.

And some will have no teachers. Most of the more than 7,000 Arab teachers have indicated they will work under the Israelis, but many have refused. No Israeli teachers will work in the Arab schools.

"If teachers don't have books, they'll just have to teach without texts or on the subjects for which we have cleared books," an Israeli Education Ministry spokesman said.

Arab books were scrutinized by Israeli educators for weeks. Of 134 types of books seized in the Israeli-occupied west bank territory, only 56 were found acceptable. Only 39 of 129 from the Gaza Strip were cleared as free of anti-Zionist material.

Israeli officials said most of the objectionable material was found in history, geography and Arab literature books. But officials said in one arithmetic book they found 8-year-olds were given the following problem:

"If our defense forces killed three Zionist terrorists and captured another when seven attacked our town, how many were left?"

In such a case the entire book has to be reprinted under the Israeli rule.

"We have to reprint even if there is only one sentence

we find objectionable," said Ya'acov Sarid, director-general of the Israeli Education Ministry. "If we just crossed it out or snipped it out the children would ask questions."

The new textbooks are printed in Arabic and generally the Israelis say they have not changed the Arab curricula.

Israel does, however, intend to introduce Hebrew gradually into Old Jerusalem, the sector of the holy city seized from Jordan. Israeli officials said Hebrew will be introduced in other occupied areas "if the parents request it."

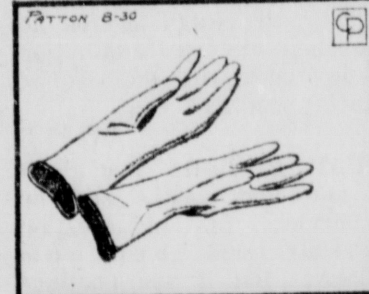

The 200,000 Arab children on the west bank of the Jordan River and the 100,000 in the Gaza Strip will receive free schooling. But in Old Jerusalem, parents will have to pay fees based on size of family and amount of family income.

China May Have Nuclear Missile

LEEDS, England (AP) — China may be ready to test her first intercontinental missile capable of carrying a nuclear warhead before the end of this year, a scientific conference was told here today.

Already the Chinese Communists have performed "remarkable achievements" in nuclear weaponry, C.H.G. Oldham, of the science policy research unit at Sussex University, told a meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

"The successful detonations of an apparently 'clean' hydrogen bomb only eight years after the inauguration of China's first research factor and less than three years after his first atomic explosion was a remarkable scientific and technological feat," said Oldham, who studied Asian science while based in Hong Kong.

AAUW Programs Study Problems of Society

EDITOR'S NOTE — Following is the second article presenting information of the American Association of University Women. It is part of a series giving detailed accounts of local area women's clubs and organizations.

The American Association of University Women's program is strong, flexible, and responsive to a variety of approaches. It is closely related to the responsibilities of college-trained women in a world of change and to their continued intellectual growth. It is a program that involves the membership in study, action and consideration of future concerns.

The AAUW study-in-depth program now centers on four topics selected biennially. The topics are developed from the "emerging issues" which members in over 1500 communities have recognized, discussed and then referred to the Association. Those chosen for study and action are timely, they have importance to our society, they are penetrating, and they are worthy of the attention of educated women.

These are the topics which will serve for the next biennium

Israelis Revamping Arab Education

TEL AVIV (AP) — Some 235,000 children whose Arab schools were closed by the Middle East war go back to school Monday under Israeli supervision, and with books carefully rewritten to eliminate anti-Zionist propaganda.

The educational experiment in Arab territories occupied by Israel is being watched by Israelis, Arabs and the world beyond the Middle East.

Some of the children will have no books. Israeli authorities still are printing thousands of new texts on history, geography and literature.

And some will have no teachers. Most of the more than 7,000 Arab teachers have indicated they will work under the Israelis, but many have refused. No Israeli teachers will work in the Arab schools.

"If teachers don't have books, they'll just have to teach without texts or on the subjects for which we have cleared books," said an Israeli Education Ministry spokesman said.

Arab books were scrutinized by Israeli educators for weeks. Of 134 types of books seized in the Israeli-occupied west bank territory, only 56 were found acceptable. Only 39 of 129 from the Gaza Strip were cleared as free of anti-Zionist material.

Israeli officials said most of the objectionable material was found in history, geography and Arab literature books. But officials said in one arithmetic book they found 8-year-olds were given the following problem:

"If our defense forces killed three Zionist terrorists and captured another when seven attacked our town, how many were left?"

In such a case the entire book has to be reprinted under the Israeli rule.

"We have to reprint even if there is only one sentence

we find objectionable," said Ya'acov Sarid, director-general of the Israeli Education Ministry. "If we just crossed it out or snipped it out the children would ask questions."

The new textbooks are printed in Arabic and generally the Israelis say they have not changed the Arab curricula.

Passing Key for Bucks; Several Sophs May Start

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Woody Hayes, as a coach, exercises guarded optimism when talking about Ohio State's football team.

But W. W. Hayes, the soothsayer, steps a little further out on the limb about his chances for a Big Ten championship in 1967.

"We expect to have a lot better team," Hayes told an attentive audience Wednesday night at the Buckeyes' annual grid preview dinner.

"We're green but we're on the way back. You never know. We could arrive ahead of schedule."

Prior to that appraisal, Hayes was quick to point out his disappointment over the Bucks' 1966 showing.

"We're not proud of our record last year (4-5). It was certainly mediocre."

The Bucks finished sixth in the conference as Hayes, dean

Cleveland, Green Bay In TV Tilt

CLEVELAND (AP) — Vince Lombardi will start Zeke Bratkowski against the Cleveland Browns tonight in the second game of a National Football League doubleheader.

"I'm not ruling out Bart (Starr) completely but Zeke will start," said Lombardi, coach of the world champion Green Bay Packers. "Starr has bruised ribs but it's nothing serious."

Minnesota will face Atlanta in the first game before an expected standing room crowd of 83,000 at Municipal Stadium. The Browns-Packers game will be televised nationally.

All reserve seats have been sold for the doubleheader, the sixth since Art Modell took over as Browns' owner in 1961. Modell faced skepticism from various directions when he started the twin bill in 1962, but it has been an overwhelming success.

Lombardi said Elijah Pitts and Jim Grabowski will be the running backs, but added, "I plan to use five or six before the night is over."

Green Bay has a 4-0 exhibition record while Cleveland is 0-4. The records prompted a word of caution Friday from Packers' scout Wally Cruise.

He said the Browns "have not taken the preseason games as seriously as some of the others, but now they will be showing up at home for the first time and they'll want to make a good showing."

La Belle Helene Scioto Winner

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — La Belle Helene came from behind to defeat Interloper by a head in Friday's $4,000 Invitational Trot at Scioto Downs in 2:03 15.

La Belle Helene paid $15, $7.80 and $4; Interloper, $10.60 and $5.20. Don Faber paid $3.40.

Miller Wins Pull

Herb Miller, winner in the tractor pulls at the Pickaway County Fair, took top place in the lightweight pull at the Ohio State Fair Friday.

Miller pulled the sled 325-feet besting 24 other entries. It was the third year he has won the event and the second in a row.

of Big Ten coaches, suffered only his second losing season in 16 campaigns.

As for any title aspirations, Hayes pointed out that Ohio finished in the second division in 1959 and missed the championship by only a half game in 1960 before copping the flag in 1961.

The veteran Hayes appears to have mellowed a bit but finds it difficult to shield his enthusiasm when discussing the future.

"Our freshman team is potentially great—we have more great athletes coming in than we've had in some time."

As far as this year, Woody will have to blend his coaching ability and any magic he has up his sleeve to bring home a winner.

Adding punch to last year's impotent attack appears to be Hayes' No. 1 goal—and problem.

"We have the passing now if we can only come up with the runners," he said.

Bill Long of Dayton who distinguished himself as a sophomore quarterback is entrenched at that position and gets his favorite target back in end Billy Anders of Sabine.

Long, apparently recovered from a baseball injury suffered last month, completed 106 of 192 passes for 1,180 yards in 1966. Anders was brilliant in stubbing 55 passes for 671 yards and two touchdowns.

Of the 70 aspirants who open drills Monday, 34 are sophoms and Hayes is counting heavily on rookies.

"We may open with seven, eight or even nine sophs in the lineup," he noted.

Speedsters Ray Gillian of Uniontown, Pa., and Dave Brungard of Youngstown are a pair of newcomers who could help at left halfback.

Two other sophs—Paul Huff of Dover and Jim Otis of Celina — are pushing junior Rudy Smith of Cincinnati for the starting fullback berth.

Senior Rudy Hubbard of Hubbard is the fullback with Joe Jenkins, a junior from East Cleveland, his backup.

The starting offensive line is big and seasoned except for sophomore Alan Jack of Winterville at right guard.

Anders and Rufus Mayes, a Toledo junior, are the ends; Dick Himes, a Canton senior switched from defense and 6-foot-5 Dave Foley of Cincinnati are the tackles and veteran John Kelley of Englewood is the other guard. Junior John Muhlback of Massillon, a former linebacker, will open at center.

The defensive line, according to Woody, is smaller, but faster—and strong.

Junior Nick Roman of Canton and soph Dave Whitfield of Massillon are the ends and two more sophs, Brad Nielsen of Columbus Watterson and Paul Schmidlin of Toledo, are set at tackles.

Junior Vic Stottliemyer of Chillicothe will open at middle guard with Mark Stier, a Louisville junior, and Dirk Worden, a senior from Lorain, the linebackers.

Senior Jim Nein of Middletown will start at cornerback; Sam Elliott of Torrance, Calif., at right half, Ted Provost of

Sikes Leads In Carling; Scores High

WOODBRIDGE, Ont. (AP) — The expansive and undulating greens gave touring golf professionals a roller-coaster ride Friday in the opening round of the $200,000 Carling World Championship at the Toronto Board of Trade Country Club.

Only 17 of the 141 players who play today in the second round of the 72-hole tournament have scores of par or better to build upon.

R. H. "Dick" Sikes, a 27-year-old Cleveland 6-footer, who only last week got his putting game under control, took a one-stroke lead over Gary Player of South Africa and veteran Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., as he fired a three-under 68 on the 7,024-yard, par 36-35-71 layout.

Sikes, who made the most of putting tips from fellow professionals Bert Yancey and Dick Crawford, was the only man to cover the treacherous course without slipping over par on a single hole.

It was the second straight round the slim Ohioan has shot without slipping over par on a hole.

The rest of the field found their scores rising with almost every dip of the greens. By the end of the first round, which saw eight players withdraw and two more disqualified for card-signing infractions, golfers were labelling the layout a thinking man's course and the greens pure murder.

Besides the top trio, only Randy Glover of Sanford, N.C., Lee Trevino of El Paso, Tex., Chi Chi Rodriguez of Puerto Rico and Tony Jacklin of London, England, managed to beat par.

Sikes canned putts from 15 and 25 feet to save pars on the first two holes and got birdies on the sixth, 10th and 16th from 12, 25 and 35 feet.

Victory here worth $35,000 would double his 1967 earnings.

Middleport Man Wins Table Tennis Match

TORONTO (AP) — Danny Pecora of Wheeling, Ill., John Tannehill of Middleport, Ohio, and Del Sweers of Grand Rapids, Mich., scored two victories apiece in the men's singles events at an international table tennis tourney Friday. The U.S. men defeated Canada 6-1 but the American women lost to Canada 6-3.

Winnipeg (AP) — Ron Kirkland, University of Nebraska fullback, will have a five-day tryout with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, the Canadian Football League team said Friday.

Ohio State will have only 11 seniors playing football this fall.

Canton's Gary Cairns will again do the placekicking. He booted 11 of 12 extra points and 5 of 11 field goals last year.

Hayes admits there's a lot of work to do in getting the sophs ready for the Big Ten opener here against Purdue Oct. 14.

He figures Michigan State, despite heavy losses, will again be tough, as will Purdue, minus Bob Griese, and Illinois, which could be high after this slush fund scandal rocked the campus last winter.

Misses Wright, Whitworth Favored in Top Tourney

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A half dozen women professionals set out today in quest of the big money in the second annual $32,000 Ladies World Series of Golf.

Mickey Wright, a tournament tested veteran who has won more tournaments than any other woman golfer, and 28-year-old Kathy Whitworth, the pro tour's leading money winner, were co-favorites for the $10,000 first prize, biggest of the year.

Two 18-hole rounds over the par 71, 6,123-yard Snyder Park golf course will determine the winner of the two-day tournament. Play started at 1:30 p.m.

Miss Wright won here last year with a 36-hole total of 136, four strokes better than runner-up Sandra Haynie, the 23-year-old Fort Worth, Tex., swinger who last year set a record with more than $41,000 in winnings.

Carol Mann, 26, of Towson, Md., Susie Maxwell, 26, of Oklahoma City and Clifford Ann Creed, 29, of Alexandria, La., round out the field.

All six shot practice rounds Friday and agreed that any of the participants could win. But they disagreed on what it would take to come out on top.

Miss Creed felt the same score as last year, 136, would be needed.

Miss Maxwell said "I'll take a pair of 72s right now if this wind keeps up." And Miss Mann also felt a 144 would be good enough.

Miss Whitworth predicted a 138 would win it and Miss Haynie said a pair of 70s should do "but the score could be better if the wind dies down."

Miss Wright looks for a 142 to top the big pot but insisted "I don't know where anyone got the idea this course plays easy."

After two practice rounds, the sextet described Snyder as a tight layout with small greens and the stress will be on accuracy.

Billie King Trying for Tennis Title

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — This is the day Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., begins a quest to become the first American to win a U.S. tennis championship since Darlene Hard was successful in 1961.

It is also the day a couple of former men's title holders, Roy Emerson of Australia and 44-year-old Vic Seixas, continue their bid in second round matches and it is also the day the harried committee hopes the injury jinx will end.

"I don't think I'm running a tournament," quipped Ernest Oberlander, chairman of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association's championships committee.

"I think I'm running a hospital."

This 86th championship has been hit by a rash of injuries. The latest to withdraw were Tony Roch of Australia, seeded third, and Tony Ann Fretz of Los Angeles, unseeded but ranked fourth nationally.

Giants Go 21 Innings To Defeat Reds, 1-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gaylord Perry's scoreless-inning streak is longer than Cincinnati's, but no one can say the Reds didn't make a try for it.

The record books got a good thumbing through Friday night — make that Saturday morning — as scoreless innings piled on scoreless innings before San Francisco mercifully got a bases-loaded walk in the 21st frame from Bob Lee and won 1-0.

Perry went the first 16 innings for the Giants, leaving for a pinch hitter in the 17th. He gave up 10 hits and struck out 12. Perry hasn't allowed a run in 29 innings and the night's work lowered his earned-run average from 3.17 to 2.96.

The end finally came when, with one out in the 21st, Jim Hart singled, Ollie Brown doubled, Hal Lanier was walked intentionally and Dick Groat was walked unintentionally, forcing in Hart.

The game will go into the record books under the following classifications:

Longest night game in National League history.

Most time consumed by a National League night game, 5 hours and 40 minutes.

Longest 1-0 game.

Tie for the most innings played without a run. The Boston Braves and Pittsburgh Pirates played 20 scoreless innings in 1918 before Pittsburgh won 2-0.

In other National League action Friday, St. Louis blanked Houston 5-0, Pittsburgh shut out Philadelphia 3-0, Los Angeles beat Atlanta 6-4 and Chicago split a doubleheader with New York 8-2 and 0-3.

Mel Queen went the first 9 1/3 innings for Cincinnati and both clubs had plenty of scoring chances. The Giants finished with 15 hits and the Reds with 12.

Nelson Briles gave up eighth hits, but kept the Astros from scoring while Lou Brock belted a homer and Tim McCarver drove in a pair of runs for the league-leading Cardinals. Bruce Von Hoff, 0-2, was the loser.

Woody Fryman struck out 15 Phillie batters and gave up just three hits in winning his third game of the season against seven defeats. He missed Bob Veale's Pirate strikeout record by one. Matty Alou and Bill Mazeroski drove in runs.

The Dodgers got homers from Bob Bailey, Willie Davis and Al

LA's Grier Hurt, Out Two Months

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Veteran Roosevelt Grier, a member of the Los Angeles Rams' defensive front four, suffered a badly torn right leg Achilles tendon in the interleague exhibition football game with Kansas City Friday night. The 287-pound tackle was expected to be lost to the NFL team for at least two months and possibly the season.

Grier was to undergo surgery this morning. The injury occurred just before the half ended, Los Angeles won 44-24.

"We have the passing now if we can only come up with the runners," he said.

Bill Long of Dayton who distinguished himself as a sophomore quarterback is entrenched at that position and gets his favorite target back in end Billy Anders of Sabine.

Long, apparently recovered from a baseball injury suffered last month, completed 106 of 192 passes for 1,180 yards in 1966. Anders was brilliant in stabbing 55 passes for 671 yards and two touchdowns.

Of the 70 aspirants who open drills Monday, 34 are sophs and Hayes is counting heavily on rookies.

"We may open with seven, eight or even nine sophs in the lineup," he noted.

Speedsters Ray Gillian of Uniontown, Pa., and Dave Brundard of Youngstown are a pair of newcomers who could help at left halfback.

Two other sophs—Paul Huff of Dover and Jim Otis of Celina — are pushing junior Rudy Smith of Cincinnati for the starting fullback berth.

Senior Rudy Hubbard of Hubbard is the fullback with Joe Jenkins, a junior from East Cleveland, his backup.

The starting offensive line is big and seasoned except for sophomore Alan Jack of Winterville at right guard.

Anders and Rufus Mayes, a Toledo junior, are the ends; Dick Himes, a Canton senior switched from defense and 6-foot-5 Dave Foley of Cincinnati are the tackles and veteran John Kelley of Englewood is the other guard. Junior John Muhlback of Massillon, a former linebacker, will open at center.

The defensive line, according to Woody, is smaller, but faster—and strong.

Junior Nick Roman of Canton and soph Dave Whitfield of Massillon are the ends and two more sophs, Brad Nielsen of Columbus Wattersen and Paul Schmidlin of Toledo, are set at tackles.

Junior Vic Stottlemeyer of Chillicothe will open at middle guard with Mark Stier, a Louisville junior, and Dirk Worden, a senior from Lorain, the linebackers.

Senior Jim Nein of Middletown will start at cornerback; Sam Elliott of Torrance, Calif., at right half, Ted Provost of

Sikes Leads In Carling; Scores High

WOODBRIDGE, Ont. (AP) — The expansive and undulating greens gave touring golf professionals a roller-coaster ride Friday in the opening round of the $200,000 Carling World Championship at the Toronto Board of Trade Country Club.

Only 17 of the 141 players who play today in the second round of the 72-hole tournament have scores of par or better to build upon.

R. H. "Dick" Sikes, a 27-year-old Cleveland 6-footer, who only last week got his putting game under control, took a one-stroke lead over Gary Player of South Africa and veteran Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., as he fired a three-under 68 on the 7,024-yard, par 36-35-71 layout.

Sikes, who made the most of putting tips from fellow professionals Bert Yancey and Dick Crawford, was the only man to cover the treacherous course without slipping over par on a single hole.

It was the second straight round the slim Ohioan has shot without slipping over par on a hole.

The rest of the field found their scores rising with almost every dip of the greens. By the end of the first round, which saw eight players withdraw and two more disqualified for card-signing infractions, golfers were labelling the layout a thinking man's course and the greens pure murder.

Besides the top trio, only Randy Glover of Sanford, N.C., Lee Trevino of El Paso, Tex., Chi Chi Rodriguez of Puerto Rico and Tony Jacklin of London, England, managed to beat par.

Sikes canned putts from 15 and 25 feet to save pars on the first two holes and got birdies on the sixth, 10th and 16th from 12, 25 and 35 feet.

Victory here worth $35,000 would double his 1967 earnings.

Middleport Man Wins Table Tennis Match

TORONTO (AP) — Danny Pecora of Wheeling, Ill., John Tannehill of Middleport, Ohio, and Del Sweeris of Grand Rapids, Mich., scored two victories apiece in the men's singles events at an international table tennis tourney Friday. The U.S. men defeated Canada 6-1 but the American women lost to Canada 6-3.

WINNIPEG (AP) — Ron Kirkland, University of Nebraska fullback, will have a five-day tryout with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, the Canadian Football League team said Friday.

Ohio State will have only 11 seniors playing football this fall.

Canton's Gary Cairns will again do the placekicking. He booted 11 of 12 extra points and 5 of 11 field goals last year.

Hayes admits there's a lot of work to do in getting the sophs ready for the Big Ten opener here against Purdue Oct. 14.

He figures Michigan State, despite heavy losses, will again be tough, as will Purdue, minus Bob Griese, and Illinois, which could be high after this slush fund scandal rocked the campus last winter.

Misses Wright, Whitworth Favored in Top Tourney

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — A half dozen women professionals set out today in quest of the big money in the second annual $32,000 Ladies World Series of Golf.

Mickey Wright, a tournament tested veteran who has won more tournaments than any other woman golfer, and 28-year-old Kathy Whitworth, the pro tour's leading money winner, were co-favorites for the $10,000 first prize, biggest of the year.

Two 18-hole rounds over the par 71, 6,123-yard Snyder Park golf course will determine the winner of the two-day tournament. Play started at 1:30 p.m.

Miss Wright won here last year with a 36-hole total of 136, four strokes better than runner-up Sandra Haynie, the 23-year-old Fort Worth, Tex., swinger who last year set a record with more than $41,000 in winnings.

Carol Mann, 26, of Towson, Md., Susie Maxwell, 26, of Oklahoma City and Clifford Ann Creed, 29, of Alexandria, La., round out the field.

All six shot practice rounds Friday and agreed that any of the participants could win. But they disagreed on what it would take to come out on top.

Miss Creed felt the same score as last year, 136, would be needed.

Miss Maxwell said "I'll take a pair of 72s right now if this wind keeps up." And Miss Mann also felt a 144 would be good enough.

Miss Whitworth predicted a 138 would win it and Miss Haynie said a pair of 70s should do "but the score could be better if the wind dies down."

Miss Wright looks for a 142 to cop the big pot but insisted "I don't know where anyone got the idea this course plays easy."

After two practice rounds, the sextet described Snyder as a tight layout with small greens and the stress will be on accuracy.

Billie King Trying for Tennis Title

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — This is the day Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., begins a quest to become the first American to win a U.S. tennis championship since Darlene Hard was successful in 1961.

It is also the day a couple of former men's title holders, Roy Emerson of Australia and 44-year-old Vic Seixas, continue their bid in second round matches and it is also the day the harried committee hopes the injury jinx will end.

"I don't think I'm running a tournament," quipped Ernest Oberlander, chairman of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association's championships committee.

"I think I'm running a hospital."

This 86th championship has been hit by a rash of injuries. The latest to withdraw were Tony Roch of Australia, seeded third, and Tony Ann Fretz of Los Angeles, unseeded but ranked fourth nationally.

Giants Go 21 Innings To Defeat Reds, 1-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gaylord Perry's scoreless-inning streak is longer than Cincinnati's, but no one can say the Reds didn't make a try for it.

The record books got a good thumbing through Friday night — make that Saturday morning — as scoreless inning piled on scoreless inning before San Francisco mercifully got a bases-loaded walk in the 21st frame from Bob Lee and won 1-0.

Perry went the first 16 innings for the Giants, leaving for a pinch hitter in the 17th. He gave up 10 hits and struck out 12. Perry hasn't allowed a run in 29 innings and the night's work lowered his earned-run average from 3.17 to 2.96.

The end finally came when, with one out in the 21st, Jim Hart singled, Ollie Brown doubled, Hal Lanier was walked intentionally and Dick Groat was walked unintentionally, forcing in Hart.

The game will go into the record books under the following classifications:

Longest night game in National League history.

Most time consumed by a National League night game, 5 hours and 40 minutes.

Longest 1-0 game.

Tie for the most innings played without a run. The Boston Braves and Pittsburgh Pirates played 20 scoreless innings in 1918 before Pittsburgh won 2-0.

In other National League action Friday, St. Louis blanked Houston 5-0, Pittsburgh shut out Philadelphia 3-0, Los Angeles beat Atlanta 6-4 and Chicago split a doubleheader with New York 8-2 and 0-3.

Mel Queen went the first 9 1/2 innings for Cincinnati and both clubs had plenty of scoring chances. The Giants finished with 15 hits and the Reds with 12.

Nelson Briles gave up eighth hits, but kept the Astros from scoring while Lou Brock belted a homer and Tim McCarver drove in a pair of runs for the league-leading Cardinals. Bruce Von Hoff, 0-2, was the loser.

Woody Fryman struck out 15 Phillie batters and gave up just three hits in winning his third game of the season against seven defeats. He missed Bob Veale's Pirate strikeout record by one. Matty Alou and Bill Mazeroski drove in runs.

The Dodgers got homers from Bob Bailey, Willie Davis and Al

Ferrara to win their fifth game in six starts. Ferrara's shot in the fifth inning broke a 4-4 tie. Joe Torre hit his 19th homer and drove in two runs for the Braves.

Ferguson Jenkins and Don Cardwell took turns with pitching gems, Jenkins winning his 17th game in the first Cub-Met game and Cardwell setting Chicago down on five hits and 11 strikeouts in the nightcap.

LA's Grier Hurt, Out Two Months

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Veteran Roosevelt Grier, a member of the Los Angeles Rams' defensive front four, suffered a badly torn right leg Achilles tendon in the interleague exhibition football game with Kansas City Friday night. The 287-pound tackle was expected to be lost to the NFL team for at least two months and possibly the season.

Grier was to undergo surgery this morning. The injury occurred just before the half ended, Los Angeles won 44-24.

Oilers, 3-11 Last Year, Hope To Improve in '67

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Oilers are not exactly gushing with talent, still they believe they're on the way up.

"We want to improve speed-wise on defense, and I think we've done that," said Coach Wally Lemm, whose team won only three of 14 games last season in the American Football League.

"We have a good offensive line. From tackle to tackle it's probably as good as any offensive line in the league. And our running attack should be very good."

Then there's George Webster, a two-time All-America from Michigan State who was the Oilers' No. 1 draft choice.

"He's going to be a great line-backer," Lemm offered. "He hits hard, he has great speed and he has a great desire to play. We traded away a regular line-backer because we know Webster would be good."

Traded was John Baker, who went to San Diego with Scott Appleton for defensive back Miller Farr, one of the players Lemm is high on.

Farr joins Bobby Jancik, Jim Norton and W. K. Hicks in the defensive secondary. Behind them are rookies Pete Johns, Larry Carwell, Zeke Moore and Ken Houston.

The interior offensive line that Lemm thinks so much of has Walt Suggs and Glen Ray Hines at the tackles, Bob Talamini and Sonny Bishop at the guards and Bobby Maples at center.

The running attack behind them consists of Hoyle Granger and Sid Blanks with the emphasis on Granger.

"He's one of those we started to use last year when we decided to go with the veterans," Lemm said.

Granger responded by running for 388 yards on just 56 carries for a lofty average of 6.9 yards, the best figure among the league's running backs. Boston's Jim Nance, by comparison, averaged 4.9 yards in breaking the AFL rushing record with 1,458 yards.

The Oilers, however, also have their problems. They're concerned about their pass rush and their passing.

"The pass rush hasn't come as well as we hoped it would, and our passing game is not as good as we've hoped," Lemm said.

One of the problems with the pass rush has stemmed from the loss of defensive end Gary Cutsinger. He reinjured his back and it out for the season.

To compensate for his loss, Lemm has shifted Pat Holmes from tackle to end and moved George Rice into Holmes' spot.

Don Floyd is at the other end while Ernie Ladd holds down the other tackle job, hoping for an improvement over last year when a badly injured thumb impeded his effectiveness.

The Oilers also have lost middle line-backer Pete Barnes because of a bad knee, and Lemm has been forced to switch Garland Boyette from end to fill that spot. Webster is on one side of Boyette and Dan Brabham is on the other.

Offensively, Don Trull gets his first opportunity to lead the team from the start of the year. Last season he took over from veteran George Blanda midway through the schedule. Lemm, however, is not enchanted with Trull's performance so far.

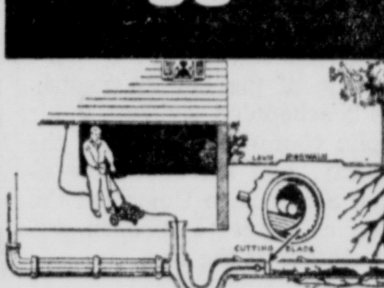

"The potential is there," the coach said. "He played well the second half of last season, but he's had a little problem with his passing so far this year. He just needs more work."

The Oilers, in general, will need a lot more work if they hope to start penetrating the upper echelon of the Eastern Division.

MAJOR LEADER — Rusty Staub, the Houston outfielder, is leading both leagues in batting, but has a tight race in the N.L. with several contenders close up. Staub, a lefthanded hitter, batted 280 for the Astros last year and hails from New Orleans.

Oilers, 3-11 Last Year, Hope To Improve in '67

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Oilers are not exactly gushing with talent, still they believe they're on the way up.

"We want to improve speed-wise on defense, and I think we've done that," said Coach Wally Lemm, whose team won only three of 14 games last season in the American Football League.

"We have a good offensive line. From tackle to tackle it's probably as good as any offensive line in the league. And our running attack should be very good."

Then there's George Webster, a two-time All-America from Michigan State who was the Oilers' No. 1 draft choice.

"He's going to be a great line-backer," Lemm offered. "He's hard, he has great speed and he has a great desire to play. We traded away a regular line-backer because we know Webster would be good."

Traded was John Baker, who went to San Diego with Scott Appleton for defensive back Miller Farr, one of the players Lemm is high on.

Farr joins Bobby Jancik, Jim Norton and W. K. Hicks in the defensive secondary. Behind them are rookies Pete Johns, Larry Carwell, Zeke Moore and Ken Houston.

The interior offensive line that Lemm thinks so much of has Walt Suggs and Glen Ray Hines at the tackles, Bob Talamini and Sonny Bishop at the guards and Bobby Maples at center.

The running attack behind them consists of Hoyle Granger and Sid Blanks with the emphasis on Granger.

"He's one of those we started to use last year when we decided to go with the veterans," Lemm said.

Granger responded by running for 388 yards on just 56 carries for a lofty average of 6.9 yards, the best figure among the league's running backs. Boston's Jim Nance, by comparison, averaged 4.9 yards in breaking the AFL rushing record with 1,458 yards.

The Oilers, however, also have their problems. They're concerned about their pass rush and their passing.

"The pass rush hasn't come as well as we hoped it would, and our passing game is not as good as we've hoped," Lemm said.

One of the problems with the pass rush has stemmed from the loss of defensive end Gary Cutsinger. He reinjured his back and it out for the season.

To compensate for his loss, Lemm has shifted Pat Holmes from tackle to end and moved George Rice into Holmes' spot. Don Floyd is at the other end while Ernie Ladd holds down the other tackle job, hoping for an improvement over last year when a badly injured thumb impeded his effectiveness.

The Oilers also have lost middle line-backer Pete Barnes because of a bad knee, and Lemm has been forced to switch Garland Boyette from end to fill that spot. Webster is on one side of Boyette and Dan Brabham is on the other.

Offensively, Don Trull gets his first opportunity to lead the team from the start of the year. Last season he took over from veteran George Blanda midway through the schedule. Lemm, however, is not enchanted with Trull's performance so far.

"The potential is there," the coach said. "He played well the second half of last season, but he's had a little problem with his passing so far this year. He just needs more work."

The Oilers, in general, will need a lot more work if they hope to start penetrating the upper echelon of the Eastern Division.

MAJOR LEADER — Rusty Staub, the Houston outfielder, is leading both leagues in batting, but has a tight race in the N.L. with several contenders close up. Staub, a lefthanded hitter, batted .280 for the Astros last year and hails from New Orleans.

Boom Operator Must Be A Jack of All Trades

ONCE GUNNER — M-Sgt. LeRoy E. Knorr started his Air Force career 23 years ago as a gunner in a World War II Martin B-26 Marauder. Here he briefs on the operation of the high speed boom used as a gas line in the sky for in-flight refueling of bombers, fighters and reconnaissance planes.

The big camouflaged B-52 Stratofortress moves slowly up to the jet tanker—a gas station in the sky. Thousands of feet below, soft puffy clouds float silently by.

In the rear of the dull gray KC-135 Stratotanker, military counterpart of a Boeing 707, M-Sgt. LeRoy E. Knorr, Columbus, one of many "boom operators" at Lockbourne Air Force Base, is lying in his rear-view position.

Upon completing his last minute checks on the refueling equipment, he watches intently as the Strategic Air Command bomber draws closer. He has already lowered the boom—the pipe-like extension that is "stowed" at the bottom-rear of the airplane when not being used for in-flight refueling.

The giant eight-engine bomber slides upward until it is just yards away from where Sergeant Knorr is lying in the tanker. He has guided the bomber foot by foot until the Stratofortress is within reach.

The sergeant places the boom into the receptacle of the bomber, and fuel begins to flow. The average car would operate for more than a year on the amount of fuel transferred in one minute.

The nose of the receiving bomber is a mere 25 feet away from Sergeant Knorr's window and both planes are traveling more than 500 miles an hour.

With the pre-scheduled fuel off-loaded, the B-52 drops back and flies off to complete its mission. The boom is "stowed"—returned to its original position—and Sgt. Knorr comes forward into the cockpit to complete the rest of his numerous duties.

Although the boom operator is the air refueling specialist on the crew, he has many other functions and duties to perform. The only enlisted man on the four-man crew, he is highly trained and skilled in his job.

The boomer is the tanker crew's pivot man. He is trained in some celestial navigation pro-

13 Injured,

No decision has been made as to where they would march but trouble is expected if they decided to return to South Side.

Friday night's march toward youth council headquarters, destroyed by fire Tuesday night, began after a delay of more than four hours while lawyers tried in vain to get a temporary restraining order blocking the mayor's ban.

"We're going to walk in our black neighborhood and no power on earth is going to stop us," said Father Groppi to the demonstrators assembled inside the playground. "They'll have to kill us to stop us."

Police began massing at the end of the street as the marchers filed out of the playground. Police, advancing in a solid phalanx, met the demonstration head on and stopped it, using their nightsticks.

One Negro was thrown onto the fender of a car and disappeared under a pile of blue uniforms. Another was thrown to the ground. "Get the handcuffs on him!" a policeman shouted.

Other demonstrators sat down on the lawn of North Division High School, adjacent to the parish.

The air bristled with cries. Soon the rocks and bottles began flying out of the darkness—seemingly from all directions. Police ducked behind their cars.

The Rev. Michael T. Neuberger said the bottles didn't come from the church grounds. "I don't know where they were coming from but it certainly wasn't from here," he said.

"The people over here were just standing, watching."

Police Chief Harold A. Breier said he arrived after the tear gas was fired. He had no comment on the police action.

But, the chief said, "you can't violate the law. You can't defy authority."

Father Groppi saw solace in the tear gas. "That tear gas did us a lot of good," he said.

"When people suffer together, it unites them."

Woman Suffers Fractured Hip In Auto Crash

Driving with only a temporary permit and no licensed operator in the car turned out to be painful in more than one way Friday night for a 29-year-old Mt. Sterling woman.

Jacqueline Tarbill, holder of only a learner's permit, lost control of her car on a curve and struck a telephone pole 11:45 p.m. last night.

The accident occurred 2½ miles southeast of Orient on State Route 762. Mrs. Tarbill's vehicle was demolished.

As a result of the mishap, Mrs. Tarbill suffered a fractured hip, lacerations to the face and chest injuries. She was taken to Fayette County Hospital, Washington C. H.

Mrs. Tarbill was cited by Deputy Jim Lockard for operation of a vehicle without a licensed driver accompanying her.

County Girls Are Still Winning at Ohio State Fair

Five Pickaway County 4-Hers were recently named "Outstanding of the Day" award winners at the Ohio State Fair.

Talented sisters Nancy and Valerie May, Betty Baum, Susie Bennett and Linda Vance were the honored girls.

Nancy received her award for a dress-up dress she made; Valerie for a complete costume which was hand-made and Betty for tailored clothing of her own design.

Susie was named a winner for a demonstration outside the home and Linda was the top winner in leadership interviews. Miss Vance also wins a trip to the Canadian National 4-H Club Congress later in the year.

Gordon Invited To Chicago Luncheon

An invitation has been received by Mayor Ben H. Gordon from Ohio Governor James A. Rhodes to attend an Industry Appreciation Luncheon in Chicago.

Hosted by the Ohio Manufacturers' Assn., the luncheon will be held to establish the best possible relations with out-of-state employers who control business and industries in Ohio.

Gov. Rhodes said the beneficial results of affairs such as these are immeasurable in establishing better lines of communications between the community and industry.

The luncheon will be held Sept. 6 in the Palmer House Hotel, Chicago.

Russian Handed Stiff Sentence

MOSCOW (AP)—A 26-year-old poet has been sentenced to three years loss of freedom and two young writers were put on probation for participating in demonstrations demanding free speech, informed sources said.

The demonstration's leader, Vladimir Bukovsky, received the three year sentence.

Vadim Delone, 19, and Yevgeny Kushev, 20, were handed conditional sentences that do not result in imprisonment but could mean a loss of freedom if any further violation of the law is suspected by authorities.

Plate Glass Window Smashed

One report of vandalism was received by the Circleville Police Friday night.

Word was received that a 4-foot square plate glass window was broken in the Ohio Pipeline Office, 1200 N. Court St. Police said the window was hit twice, once possibly with a beer bottle found at the scene.

Police reports said that is also appeared someone had fallen through the window.

German 'Bitch' Hangs Herself

AICHACH, Germany (AP) — Ilse Koch, once known as the Bitch of Buchenwald for mistreatment of concentration camp inmates, committed suicide in prison early today, an official at the Bavarian Women's Prison said.

He reported Mrs. Koch, 60, hanged herself in her cell and was discovered by a guard who brought her breakfast.

Mrs. Koch had spent 20 years in prison, first under a U. S. war crimes sentence and since 1951 under a German life sentence for instigation of murder and cruelty to concentration camp inmates. She was held in the women's prison in this town near Augsburg.

Landmark Slated For Extinction

The Cherry Hotel, a landmark in Washington C. H., is slated for extinction in mid-September when demolition crews attack the historic structure.

A sale of the hotel's furnishings is scheduled for Sept. 9. Colin Campbell, owner of the property, will surrender the title on Sept. 12, to Union Oil Co. which will erect a modern service station on the site.

Business Briefs

Carla J. Carroll of Stoutsville, local representative for Mutual of Omaha and United of Omaha, has recently completed the comprehensive insurance course offered at the National Sales Training School session in Pittsburgh, Pa.

The school was held at the Gulf Building under the direction of Jack Haff, training director. It is the first step of a formal educational program established by Mutual of Omaha to provide its representatives with the advantages of professional training methods.

Mrs. Carroll was chosen for the National Sales Training School through a selection interview analysis. On the average, only one out of eight applicants is able to pass the rigid entrance requirements.

Mrs. Carroll is associated with the H. F. Swisher Agency in Columbus.

'Good Crowd' Attends CHS Band Preview

"A real good crowd" attended Circleville High School Band Mothers' band and football preview Friday night on the CHS gridiron.

Ticket sales previous to the show netted $400 while gate proceeds were $200. Money will be put into the Band Mothers' savings account and will be used to purchase new uniforms in 1971.

George Marshall's led CHS Band off the evening with a drill and musical routine. Coach Paul Starr then introduced the members of the football team and led them through a training routine.

The Band Mothers sponsored their variety show, "The Nickleodeon Swingers," performed inside a cardboard jukebox on top a wagon. Highlight of the show was a dance performed by three "bunnies," Frank Barnhill, Doyle Painter and William Radcliff.

DAVIS Demons presented a show of their own music. Ginger White won top prize, a camera, for selling the most preshow tickets. The camera was donated by Circleville New Car and Truck Dealers Assn. Valerie Valentine was second, winning a wristwatch donated by Mac's Groceries. Marsha McFadden won $5 donated by the Band Mothers for selling the third highest number of tickets.
